Oxford Co. Fair Next Week - 113th Annual Event

Everything is ready for the 113th showing of Oxford County Fair starting Monday, Sept. 13, and continuing through the 18th at the grounds between Norway and South Paris.

Thousands of exhibits are crowded into the large exhibition hall, hundreds of purbred cattle, sheep and horses, the fourth annual 4-H Market Lamb Show and Sale, outstanding horse pulling events, a special Dairy Show featuring Milk-Ing Shorthorns, two nights of thrilling dare-devil auto stunts, five nights of stage show, five days of harness racing with pari-mutuels, and one of the east's largest midways, are only a few of the countless attractions that will bring to a reality this year's Oxford County Fair slogan—Fun Galore for Fifty Four.

Monday will see everything in all departments being put into ship-shape for the gala opening Tuesday morning of the feature-packed program. At 8 p. m. Monday the first performance of the Tournament of Thrills will be presented on the raceway in front of the grandstand. Four auto stunting teams will vie in death-defying feats for a total of 27 smashing, crashing championship events. Highlighting the two hour stunt program will be an amazing atomic rocket car leap; head on collisions, dive bomber crashes, and a terrifying ice crash - rollover contest.

The fair gates will open officially Tuesday morning and again the school children of Oxford County will be the guests of the management. Tuesday is Young America's Day and special attractions will be presented just for the young guests. The huge midway will be in full swing with many new rides and shows to provide fun for old and young.

The first of the five-days of horse pulling programs will be launched at 1:30 p. m. opening day. The popular 2000 class will be in competition and this event usually draws more than a score of entries.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

As no doubt everyone knows, Monday, Sept. 13, is Election Day. It is the privilege of American citizens of legal age, with a few minor exceptions, to have a voice in the selection of their government officials. Regardless of your choice of candidates let's turn out and make the choice a real demonstration of public interest.

I think everyone realizes the possible danger of bottles thrown along the streets and highways. Bethel seems to be comparatively free from this hazard. A vote NO on all liquor questions will help in this respect. A check of the welfare cases that has in the past, and are still costing Bethel taxpayers good dollars will convince you I believe, that a vote NO on all liquor questions is a good vote for your pocketbook.

SURPRISE CD ALERT TO BE HELD THIS MONTH

Following close on the heels of the natural disaster, Hurricane Carol, is the civil defense and public safety surprise test exercise due sometime this month.

"The work of CD forces in areas where they were needed and organized proved the value of their training," Mapes said. "The assistance which CD forces rendered in the Lewiston-Auburn area, Waldo County, and other areas throughout the state brought praise from newspapers and radio stations in those areas."

"September's Operation Surprise should be even more effective than formerly expected," Mapes said, "because we realize now, more than ever, that natural disasters, as well as enemy disasters, can happen here. With trained civil defense forces, losses can be minimized."

Active, properly trained CD forces and an alert, disciplined public is ready for natural emergencies as well as enemy-incurred disasters, the State CD Director emphasized.

"To take cover, as you will be advised during September's Surprise alert, is just as good advice for a hurricane or tornado, as it is for an enemy bombing," he added.

The public is asked to seek shelter at the sound of the test red alert warning "sometime in September" until the test white, or all clear, is sounded about ten minutes later.

The red warning consists of a three minute wailing siren or three minutes of short blasts. The all clear, signal is three one-minute blasts with two minutes of silence between.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Berry and daughter left Monday for Blue Hill, where he has a teaching position.

Alden Bradley, Hingham, Mass.; Robert Crane, Caribou; Jeff Dilon, Cornish; Craig Dore, Guilford; Robert Griffin, Lisbon Falls; Alan Lamson, Northfield, Vt.; John Manter, Mount Desert; Matts Myhrman, Lewiston; Peter Young, Skowhegan; Virginia Bergeron, Berlin, N. H.; Mary Ann Bowles, Plymouth, N. H.; Joan Campbell, Errol, N. H.; Anne Desautel, Newport, Vt.; Pauline King; Cynthia Ross, San Francisco, Calif.

Senior Class New Students—Jay Crabtree, Edmonston, N. B.; Linda Campbell, Woodsville, N. H.; Mary Jane Cole, West Paris; Cynthia Hall, Sharon, Mass.; Alice Lane, Rockport.

Only Votes in the Ballot Box Count

In view of the State election to be held next Monday, the indifference or ignorance of citizens in regard to the candidates and the questions offered for their decision is as amazing as ever. As noted last week it would seem that candidates of both parties generally seem to be of better than the usual quality. In cases where both candidates for an office are well qualified it becomes a duty of all to consider as fairly as possible the one best suited for the office. It is still our opinion that neither party has all the best candidates and both the old party folks and the independent voters should conscientiously "split their tickets."

We believe that if all citizens will weigh the serious questions presented in the local option referendum the total of "No" votes will be greater than before. Many of us are acquainted with the results of the use of liquor, and know that even in the mildest instances of its abuse, financial, physical and mental suffering can result. And its use many times becomes a fixed habit which handicaps the victim and his or her family.

It should be recognized that those who favor permission for the sale of liquor of any kind, and sponsor publicly designed to this end, have only the spread of the drinking habit in mind. This may not appear in so many words, and oftentimes they smoothly publish their messages on themes of moderation and toleration. But do not forget, be it sponsored by the many leagues, foundations, associations, and others, the purpose is the same. More sales outlets will only mean more sales.

The Week in Oxford County

Norway Little Leaguers gained the Oxford County League championship from a 5-4 decision over South Paris.

The sixth annual conference of Rumford and Hanover teachers is being held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. John H. O'Hearn, Penobscot St., Rumford, observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday. A party was held in their honor at the home of their son, John W. O'Hearn, on York St., in Rumford.

Pvt. Gordon P. Howe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howe, Hanover, is assigned to the 69th Inf. Div. Fort Dix, N. J., for basic training.

Landscapers are being used to clear the Little Androscoggin river of islands and large rocks where it circles the West Paris athletic field. A flood wall has also been completed to protect the field from high water.

An old landmark on High Street, West Paris, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The former grist mill was owned by Norman Mills, who reported the loss of farm machinery, hay and dry beans stored there.

SUNDAY'S SERMON
REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Christian Citizenship and Cooperation
Lecture for September 12: Romans 8: 1-10; 1 Corinthians 3: 4-9.
Golden Text: 1 Corinthians 3: 9.
Christian duty demands an allegiance to the power that is supreme in the land. However bad some laws may be, it is Christian duty to be in subjection under them because of what they represent. They represent the law of the land and that law is binding upon the Christian citizen. For government is its origin and authority is of God. The powers that be are ordained of God.

It is obvious that Paul deals to some extent with an ideal situation. He regards law in its highest sense and argues that in good conscience a man will obey the law and be a good citizen and a Christian. To accomplish obedience to the law, Paul would bring men under the supreme law of love, which worketh no ill to a neighbor and which therefore leadeth to the fulfillment of all the law.

In writing the Corinthians, Paul sets the laying aside of all anti-Christian reasons that should lead a man to be loyal to the law of the land, should lead him to be true to the divine government that is supreme. It is often the case that a man may be divided by parties clinging around different leaders. The first loyalty of Christians should be to their Lord and Master. If they are "God's fellow-workers," they are his husbandry and his building.

HURRICANE DAMAGES APPLES, CORN, TREES ABOUT $5,000,000

Hurricane Carol last Tuesday did considerable agricultural damage in Maine. Also, loss of electric power and phone service was a hardship to farmers. One estimate places damage at about five million dollars. The apple crop suffered most severely, with damage ranging from 25 to 75 per cent in Central and Southern Maine. Corn was flattened. Shade trees and some woodlots were damaged or killed. However, wind damage was usually less where woodlots had been properly cut and the poor risk trees removed. Also proper thinning helped prevent one tree from going down and taking many others with it. Good, healthy, well-rooted shade trees suffered little damage as a rule. Other crops and a few farm buildings were also damaged.

THE LOW DOWN

FROM HICKORY GROVE

As we zoom along toward autumn and with Congress home — and summing up how we stand — means the time is ripe for checking up on just what is to be done about our clearing up the prodigious goings-on of the past 20 years. It is time to go to the mat — find out how come the ceiling still cramps our style — Govt. style that is. Ask our great man — senator or congressman — what he has been doing the past year to earn his salt.

It is easy to get into debt — getting out is the tedious and tiresome trick, but a 100 per cent necessary task or somebody will foreclose on the mortgage. Split milk is split milk, and putting a finger on the gents and culprits of the past who pulled the wool over our eyes, is alright as history but the question now is how are we going to talk up the old boat and keep afloat — and a jump ahead of the sheriff.

We gotta pull ourselves together — use our noggin — get the Govt. out of 100 places where it is gumming up the machinery. Hire a good auctioneer — sell all the misfits — apply the cash to our mile high debt — let the new owners pay

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

AFTER leaving college, P. W. Treleven, 3212 Milan Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, made a vow that he would become rich and he set out to do just that.

He left New Orleans because it was a slow uninteresting place and went to New York where he thought fortunes could be made in a hurry. His first speculations were modest; he had beginner's luck; he won. Plunging more heavily at every turn he won and won and won.

His winnings afforded him all the pleasures he could desire. Travel, night clubs, high priced cars, an apartment in New York, home on Long Island, a boat on the Hudson River. The more he got the more he wanted—he was living in a mental whirl.

October 1928 came and with it the collapse of the stock market and the speculator's dream. What followed was a nightmare for Peter Treleven. A complete reversal of plenty, hounding of creditors, despair, remorse, more or less of a black void, coupled with great effort to find an answer.

By and by the answer came. A voice said, "Peter become useful, try and help others in this world of trials and tribulations; stop worrying and forget the easy road to riches."

Surprisingly enough he began to live and he enjoyed life far more than he ever had. Above all he found his fortune in his wife, who, he declares, is worth far more to him than all the gold in the world. Today he considers himself a very rich man.

OXFORD COUNTY FAIR

Fair features—the annual 4-H Market Lamb Sale—will highlight the Wednesday program. The youthful 4-Hers will bring more than 125 of the Fat Lambs, raised during the year as a Club project, to the auction block. This one event draws many of the buyers from Maine cities to bid on the woolly animals.

The Grand Champion pen of three lambs will be the first to go on the auction block and a record price is expected to be paid for this first offering. The sale will be held at the pulling arena in front of the Cattle grandstand. Many individuals attend this event to buy a winter's supply of lamb for their lockers.

The State-wide Sweepstakes pulling event for horses will be staged Thursday afternoon, immediately after the annual Livestock Cavalcade has been held on the half-mile race track. Another pulling event will be held under the floodlights at 7:15 p. m.

The 4-H Club will be featured Friday. Oxford County Fair features the youthful farmers and homemakers on this day. The highlight of the program will be the 4-H Dairy show. A showmanship program will start at 1 p. m. and at 2 p. m. the young livestock growers will show their animals in a parade in front of the grandstand. At this time a number of awards will be made on the stage. Two 150 awards will be presented the outstanding boy and girl club members; the H. P. Hood Company award of $25 will be made, and the award to the Oxford County Green Pastures winner will be presented at this time.

The Exhibition Hall is filled to capacity with thousands of exhibits including several tractors, a huge 4-H Club department under the direction of Mrs. Mary Kilgore, Flannery 4-H leader, and the Park-Harvey Cattle Club spectacular show.

The annual Butter House Exposition on the first floor of the Exhibition Hall promises to make other years. More space has been taken by the various business exhibitors of this area and the latest in home equipment, heating appliances and furnishings will be displayed in the many booths.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gilbert are enjoying a vacation trip around the Cape Peninsula.
